Galatians 6:9-10

And let us not grow weary of doing good, for in due season we will reap, if we do not give up. So then, as we have opportunity, let us do good to everyone, and especially to those who are of the household of faith.

Paul has urged the Galatian Christians not to grow tired of doing good, through the power of God's Spirit. It will pay off when the "crops" come, he has assured them. The most obvious crop is their own eternal life in Christ. Paul perhaps also has other positive results in mind, including the eternal lives of others who will come to Christ. And, perhaps he has in mind the rewards given by God to those Christians who serve well in this life (Matthew 6:19-20).

In any case, a planting season only lasts so long. It must eventually come to an end. Paul says this, spiritually speaking, is the planting time. As long as we have the opportunity to do good, to invest our lives by the power of God's Spirit in doing what is right, we should take it. This includes doing good to everyone but being especially intentional about doing good to and for other believers.

Paul describes all of us who are in Christ as belonging to the "household of faith." In Christ, we are siblings, and God is our Father. Doing good to others in our household is an investment that will pay off for them and for us both now and for eternity.

Calling all Moms!

Meeting on the first and third Tuesdays of each month at Faithbridge at 9:00 AM
All Moms are welcome!

February 4th - Bev and Denny Sleen speaking about marriage.
February 18th - Homeschool Panel

This year's theme is "Wild Hope."

DEACON OF THE MONTH
Denny Sleen

I chose to follow Christ at age 16 and graduated from a private church school. I attended Pillsbury Baptist Bible College for 3 1/2 years where I met and fell in love with my wife, Beverly. We have been married for 43 years and have three daughters and 11 grandchildren.

We have been in the Park Rapids area for 27 years and have made Faithbridge our church home for that entire time. We enjoy bicycling, hiking, camping, cross country skiing and hosting families and groups on our sliding hill in the winter.

I worked for 17 years as an industrial technician before moving to Park Rapids. I worked for seven years as a steam engineer at RDO, two years as a long-term substitute at the high school, one year at Teamworks as a Welding instructor, and three years at Park Rapids Aviation before spending 13 years teaching industrial tech at the high school, retiring in 2024. I coached girls hockey in Park Rapids for eight years and girls Fastpitch softball for four years.

A verse that means a lot to me is John 10:10 "The thief comes only to kill, steal, and destroy, but I am come that they might have life and have it abundantly."

We are still looking for a library coordinator to manage the library. I would like to work with someone who loves books to help them learn more about our library and its workings and eventually be the lead librarian. If you love books and reading, are computer literate and detail orientated and would like to encourage others to read, you meet the qualifications to share in a very satisfying ministry! Come and talk to me, Joyce Killmer, or give me a call (at 218-252-1659) or talk to Kelly Maninga.

PLAN FOR A POWER OUTAGE

Are you prepared to get through a day or two with no electricity without risking your health and safety? Winter weather can portend severe problems and strike an area without much advance notice. Frozen and downed power lines can severely impact your life and safety— especially when temperatures drop to negatives with wind-chill factors added. Plan ahead by following these easy steps:

- Stock the basics — Keep a cushion of nonperishable food in your pantry that doesn't require cooking. Options include canned goods, nuts, peanut butter and dried fruit. Keep a few gallon jugs of water in storage. Have battery-powered LED flashlights available with fresh batteries on hand.
- Keep the fridge closed — Left shut, it will keep cool for about 4 hours without power. A full freezer will maintain its temperature for around 48 hours (24 hours if half-full) if the door remains closed. If you have temperature-sensitive medications, note the total power outage time and if the medication has previously been used or is unopened. Then contact your pharmacist to determine if the drug needs to be replaced.
- Guard against carbon monoxide poisoning — Never heat your home with your oven or run a generator, grill or other outdoor device inside your home. Have at least one working carbon monoxide detector, and test its batteries twice a year.
- Have a plan for electricity-dependent medical devices — The Food and Drug Administration has a booklet designed for people to record relevant information about their devices, so they're prepared in case of a power outage. View and print the booklet at www.fda.gov/media/80782/download.
- Know your community — Stay aware of community safe spots to go to for heat, air-conditioning, food and lodging. Keep a paper contact list of people and places you can turn to for help; leaving your contacts on your phone will only help as long as your phone stays charged.

Staying aware of changing weather patterns and special alerts so that you can make the necessary preparations is what will keep you safe and healthy during the short-term inconvenience.

A change: Juan and Elena Felipe had been planning to retire and move to Texas where they have some relatives. But now they are thinking of staying in Minnesota, not retiring, with Juan continuing as Pastor of the Spanish speaking church that meets at Faith-bridge! We did not learn of their decision until after the budget for 2025 was set, so it was too late to increase their support for 2025.

In the past, individuals have given to them by giving through Faith-bridge church with a designation for them written in on the offering envelope. If any of you feel led by God to give to them this way, it would help them with financial needs this year.

Looking ahead: A snack drive for Red River Youth for Christ is planned for March 9-23 at our church. The snacks are used as rewards for the teens for memorizing Scripture. Here's a photo of the last time we had a snack drive for them. Lets do it again and bless these young people. Start looking for sales this month on snack items!

God has given us more opportunities to be the hands and feet of Jesus. Let's answer the call.

Be sure to read the latest news from our missionaries - letters are located in the East and West foyer kiosks.

NEW DONATED BOOKS:

Why Israel Matters, Past, Present, Forever by Mathew D. Staver – Seven decades after its miraculous rebirth, Israel is a global high-tech leader playing a vital role in the world economy. And yet the Jewish state remains fixed in the cross-hairs of global controversy. What generates so much fascination, frustration, and fury over one small and densely populated nation? This lavishly illustrated guide to all things Israel reveals why Israel is so significant to the Muslim world, the global economy, America, the church, and you. Most of all, it gives insight into why Israel matters to God and shares a glimpse of what's ahead for God's still-chosen people.

A six disk, 13-episode DVD series of Why Israel Matters is also available. Full of moving stories, thought-provoking questions and inspiring takeaways, this original series will strengthen your faith and empower you to thoughtfully engage in the global conversation. Approximately 350 minutes.

Countdown, book 4 in the Extreme Measures series by Lynette Eason, has arrived and is available for you to finish this series of romantic suspense novels about FBI Special Agents and their lives.

When Faith Is Forbidden – 40 Days on the Frontlines with Persecuted Christians - For more than 20 years, Todd Nettleton (host of The Voice of the Martyrs Radio, VOMradio.net) has traveled the world and interviewed hundreds of Christians who've been persecuted for the name of Jesus. Now he's inviting you to come along and meet bold believers whose faith will inspire you to a deeper walk with Christ. They took a stand for their Savior, even when it was costly. Their stories can help us do the same.

Around the World, Letters from Children Across the Nations by Stefanie Boyles is a book written for kids and their parents to help them become strategic in cultivating a global outlook. It is to inform parents and children alike that there are many people around this world today who have never heard the good news of Jesus Christ. It is a way to invite families to pray for these unreached people groups and pray for those serving them, now and in the future.

The People of God – God’s Plan for His Church by Sarah Morrison -This children's book is designed to introduce children to God's plan for His church. The book has beautiful and engaging illustrations to teach children about the joy of being a part of the people of God. Use this book to start conversations and discussion on why we go to church.

Created With Emotions by Aubrey Coleman - We know God gave us all our emotions as a way to glorify Him, but big emotions can be a lot to handle as a little kid. This children’s book walks through each of our emotions and what they are. With easy-to-read words and biblical illustrations, this book is great for young readers.

UNABRIDGED AUDIOBOOK ON CD – Sent by mistake, but sounds interesting!

What I Promise You - Echoes of the Past by Liz Tolsma

A family forever changed by the tragedies of WWII. Hannah Elfenbein, a young, pregnant Jewish woman, is arrested in 1942 and sent to the Camp de Rivesaltes transit camp in Southwest France. Drawn to helping other young women escape, she seeks refuge for herself and others at a maternity hospital. But nothing is simple in occupied France, and she finds herself doing the unimaginable to save one precious life.

Eighty years later, Caitlyn Laurant takes a break from training to be a missionary nurse in Spain to visit nearby France, hoping to find her grandfather’s birthplace. But what she uncovers are secrets long buried by WWII atrocities.
